Founding Principal, Missy Edwards Strategies

Missy Edwards, the Founding Principal of Missy Edwards Strategies, has more than two decades of professional experience in federal government affairs, electoral politics and public affairs across numerous industries and a wide range of issues for companies, trade associations, and other entities. Missy began her career in Washington DC as a policy adviser to Senator Thad Cochran (R-MS), focusing first on health care, energy/environment and appropriations; and later advising the Senator on The Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee, the Senate Appropriations Committee, and The Senate Government Affairs Committee. Following her service to Senator Thad Cochran, Missy served as the chief Senate Republican lobbyist for the American Medical Association (AMA). In this role, she provided strategic input for policy initiatives and played a key role in the implementation of its legislative agenda.

What is Poligage?

Poligage is the world's first online marketplace for public policy insights and government affairs services, providing on-demand access to a carefully vetted group of experts who are available for pay-as-you-go consultations, projects, and content across a spectrum of expertise areas -- including policy issue and political system familiarity at the geopolitical, U.S. federal, and U.S. state and municipal levels, as well as in public affairs.
